Poem of the Week:

Hooray for Inventors

Inventors, inventors!
You made something new!
You made our lives easier
A big hooray for you!

It took Bell to make the telephone ring,
And Edison to light our way,
It took Robert Fulton in a steamboat,
To chug-chug down the bay.

George Pullman made the sleeping car
For railroad trips at night.
Lou Waterman made the fountain pen
So everyone could write.

Inventors, inventors!
You made something new!
You made our lives easier
A big hooray for you!
