....and a Happy New Year!

Hopefully, your Christmas holidays were magical and this new year has already proven that it will be a year of satisfaction, good health, happiness, peace, and success! Speaking of success, are you ready for graduation? But have you done everything you need to do in preparation for graduation? Have you completed at least ONE college application? Have you and your parents completed the FAFSA? It opened December 1st. (Please click the following link for more information: <https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa>) Have you used one of your college visit days to tour a college that you may be interested in attending in the fall? Have you completed housing applications and applied for scholarships? Are you registered for the next available ACT Test? Have you worked hard to pull up low grades? Hopefully, the answer was YES to all of those questions.

PAPER

Every student should be successful academically. That's why Paper has partnered with the Mississippi Department of Education to provide students with free, 24/7 access to trained tutors. Students can ask questions and work on problems in real time. Try it TODAY!

If you have free or reduced lunch, you can receive a total of 4 ACT waivers from your counselor.

Tips for Applying for Scholarships

1. Apply for local scholarships

Many communities offer local scholarships through clubs, organizations, small businesses, and benefactors. The odds of winning these scholarships are greater because they're open to a smaller group of students.

2. Apply for scholarships with smaller awards

Scholarships with smaller awards usually have fewer applicants, so your chances of winning may be higher.

3. More work = fewer applicants = better chances

Many students avoid scholarships that require a lot of work, such as essays, videos, and projects. As a result, the applicant pool is much smaller, which means greater chances for you.

4. Get personal

Instead of burning yourself out applying for every scholarship you qualify for, have some fun! Apply for scholarships that fit your interests and that you'll enjoy.

5. Don't introduce yourself in your essay

It's cliché and may even get you disqualified. Many scholarship committees conduct blind readings, and essays that include names or other identifiers are immediately discarded. Get to the point as quickly as possible.

6. Don't repeat the essay prompt

No one wants to reread the same sentence hundreds of times a day. Be original! Use the beginning of your essay to showcase your personality and set yourself apart from the crowd. Try starting your essay by setting the scene for a story or jumping directly into your answer.

7. Don't use quotes

Your essay should be about you. The best essays are unique and stand out from the competition, so be original and use your own words.

8. Satisfy all the requirements

You can write the best essay in the world, but if the prompt asks for a list of five things, and you only list four, you may be disqualified. Make sure you answer every question and accurately meet every requirement.

9. Stick to the word limit

Get as close to the word limit as you can, but don't go over. Exceeding the word limit may disqualify you.

10. Proofread

Spelling and grammar mistakes may get you disqualified. Make sure to proofread your essay at least twice and ask your parents and friends to look it over, too. The more eyes, the better.

11. Submit early

Don't wait until the due date, just in case there's a problem with the site, the Internet connection, or your computer.

12. Apply for as many scholarships as you can

The tip we hear the most from scholarship winners is to apply for as many scholarships as you can. Treat it like a part-time job and set aside several hours every month to look for and apply for scholarships. You should continue applying for scholarships for as long as you're in school.

13. Don't give up!

If you don't win, don't take it personally, and DON'T GIVE UP! Like most things in life, the most successful scholarship winners are the ones who keep trying. Good luck!
